Nice work

Congratulations @prashantkapse, you've completed this course!

What went well

Now, you have your slide deck deployed here and you've gone through the GitHub Flow.

Before I say good-bye, here's a recap of all the tasks you've accomplished in your repository:

- You learned about issues, pull requests, and the structure of a GitHub repository
- You learned about branching
- You created a commit
- You viewed and responded to pull request reviews
- You edited an existing file
- You enabled GitHub Pages
- You made your first contribution! 🎉

Give us feedback

We'd love to hear what you thought of this course. Please share your feedback in this brief survey.

What's next?

We hope this course helped you feel more comfortable using GitHub. Remember: You're always welcome to repeat course topics if you'd like additional practice. If you're ready to build on your new skills, here are some ideas.

Contribute to a project

To find projects to contribute to through trending topics and curated collections, check out GitHub Explore.

Keep learning

Here are some suggestions for future courses you can take:

- GitHub Pages: Continue learning about GitHub Pages, which we touched on in this course.
- Communicating using Markdown: We used a little Markdown in this course, but if you want to learn all about this ✨ syntax, take the course!

What will you learn next?
